Welcome to the Development Research Conference 2016

“Global Visions and Local Practices: Development Research in a Post-2015 World”

The conference aims to provide a multi-disciplinary forum for networking and intellectual exchange among scholars who conduct research in and of relevance to low-income countries and/or engage in capacity-building collaborations. The conference also intends to offer a platform for interaction between development researchers, policy makers, practitioners and other non-academic actors.

Development visions have gained momentum with the setting up of a new global agenda. While significant international consensus was attained around a set of normative goals (the SDG's), their materialization calls for serious reflection. One critical set of challenges relates to bridging global goals and visions, on the one hand, and local practices, realities and conditions, on the other. Ultimately, the outcomes of this global agenda depend upon the processes through which it is implemented and embedded in concrete settings. Global visions are modified by local contexts, producing a range of unintended and diverse outcomes. Local settings are characterized by an immense diversity in modes of life, physical environments and technical systems, which invites a consideration of a diversity of paths towards improved futures. Actors at the local level may embrace, appropriate or resist global agendas. Opportunities and risks for marginalized and vulnerable groups – the key targets of the new global agenda – are of particular concern. Also important is how their own innovations and everyday practices in a wide range of spheres (environmental, health, social and other practices) can be harnessed, their capacities and knowledges mobilized and how they can influence strategies and interventions seeking to materialize global development goals.

An emphasis on the encounter between current global visions and local contexts does not, however, entail that the great global-local challenges of our time can be solved at one specific scale. It rather actualizes long-standing questions about processes, structures and relations at multiple scales that work against, or alternatively open new avenues towards more just and sustainable futures.

There is an acute need for reflection concerning the role of knowledge production in the new policy context. How can the competences of a broad and diverse Swedish academic community be mobilized and shape Swedish global policies and interventions? Can opportunities for critical independent research be secured? Researchers may contribute to the development of indicators, to the assessment of opportunities, risks and impacts relating to the new global agenda, but they may also reflect upon the assumptions and notions of progress underlying their own work and the new agenda and its implementation.

Keynote lectures (see speakers' bios on conference webpage)

'Addressing Discrimination on the Basis of Gender: Towards a More Just and Equal World for All'. Professor Andrea Cornwall, University of Sussex.

Time and venue: 22nd August 2016, 14:00-15:30, Aula Magna

In this presentation, I will reflect on the contribution that SDG5 can make to creating a more just and equal world for all. I will look at the way in which women's empowerment is framed in the language and targets of the goal, drawing on the findings of the Pathways of Women's Empowerment research programme which, over the last decade, has sought to understand what works in achieving women's economic, political and sexual empowerment. I will analyse what SDG5 adds to previous commitments, such as MDG Goal 3, and will identify what's missing - and why that matters. I will suggest that the concept of "gender equality" has contributed to making more visible the need to see changing power structures and relations as vital. But, I will suggest, the way in which questions of gender have been taken up by development agencies places limits on their capacity to address the injustices and inequalities that arise from the effects of multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination, including discrimination on the basis of gender.

'Global Challenges and Visions for Change: the politics of rescaling environmental governance and development practice.' Professor Andrea J. Nightingale, Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences.

Time and venue: 23rd August 2016, 9:00-10:30, Aula Magna

There is great concern today over how to guide our responses to global challenges like climate change, urbanization, trans-boundary resource sharing and social inequalities. International conventions, institutions and conceptual frameworks are proliferating, all sharing a common objective: to bring ever larger groups of people together to agree on upon a set of goals and pathways to change. The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) need to be seen as part of that wider endeavour to tackle the grand challenges of our time with a global response. These conventions, institutions and frameworks cannot be taken as simply positive developments in international development cooperation, however. Rather, they reflect a set of unacknowledged assumptions about the scale at which problems should be conceived and addressed, (the global scale), and the actors who should be guiding our responses, (those who travel in global circles). This emphasis on the international and the global is leading to a politics of rescaling. The agenda for change is increasingly being taken out of the hands of small groups of people, of local authorities and even nation-states and placed within global conventions and institutions. This paper probes some of the implications of this politics of rescaling. It takes the case of climate change adaptation and mitigation development programs in Nepal and east Africa and explores how they reshape the institutions, actors and logics that underpin governance of resources. It argues that while on the one hand we need to embrace global cooperation. On the other hand, we also need to be attentive to the implications for democracy, participation and smaller scale innovation that such a rescaling of governance entails.

Plenary roundtable – 24th August, 11:00–12:30, G-salen

‘What role for research in the new policy context?’

The panel addresses the prospects for and obstacles to developing fruitful arenas for interaction between research and policy. There is an acute need for reflection about the role of knowledge production in a new policy context – a context dominated by discussions about the Agenda 2030 and the Swedish global development policy framework now in progress.

Critical questions include: What should the role of research be? Through what means can the relation between research and policy be strengthened (and what stands in the way)? How can a greater diversity of perspectives and competences in the academic community participate in policy debates? How can the role of universities and university-based research as important sources of knowledge for development policy and practice be strengthened? These questions relate to rising pressures for “useful” or “relevant” research and “research impacts” as well as to growing expectations for “knowledge-based policy” - and related assumptions.

Speakers from both research and policy circles will make short interventions on these questions. This will be followed by general discussion and contributions from the audience.

Convener: Ilda Lindell, Stockholm University.

Chair: Thomas Rosswall, Chair of Sida’s Research Council.

Speakers: Kerstin Sahlin, The Swedish Research Council; Ebrima Sall, CODESRIA; Johan Lindquist, Stockholm University; Anna-Maria Oltorp, Sida; Måns Nilsson, SEI; Stefan Isaksson, Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs; Gun-Britt Andersson, Expert Group for Aid Studies.

Events & exhibitions

Networking events – 24th August, 14:00–15:00

- International agricultural research for sustainability: Future development of Swedish collaboration with CGIAR. Venue: De Geer lecture hall, house Y.
- Nordic Africa Research Network. Venue: William-Olsson lecture hall, house Y.
- Networking space for Global Health. Venue: Ahlmann lecture hall, house U.
- Psychologists without Borders. Venue: Högbom lecture hall, house U.

Photographic exhibition – 22nd to 24th August. Room Y10.

"Work and Leisure in Africa". By Jorge Coelho Ferreira. Details on the conference webpage.

Publisher exhibition – 22nd to 24th August. House Y, 2nd floor.

Poster exhibition – 22nd to 24th August. Room Y21 (list below)

Panels by date

22 AUG. 16:00-17:30

PANEL 1A: Starting from the local: avoiding, accommodating and/or overcoming global visions for science and development.

PANEL 2: Where are we now? The past and the future of Swedish development research collaboration.

PANEL 5: Infrastructure and the political ordering of development.

PANEL 6: Antibiotic resistance and measures to control its consequences – need for a multidisciplinary approach.

PANEL 11: From the failures of anti-politics to the promise of cash transfer: James Ferguson and the development encounter.

PANEL 20A: Air quality and climate effects in low income countries: from observations to policy in a post-COP21 world.

PANEL 21: Ecosystem services and disservices from a farmer's perspective in agro-ecological landscapes.

PANEL 28: Seeking assistance: inequalities in accountability and service provision.

PANEL 36: Food and water security via viable business models.

PANEL 37: Culture & media for development.

23 AUG. 11:00-12:30

PANEL 1B: Starting from the local: avoiding, accommodating and/or overcoming global visions for science and development.

PANEL 7A: Contested urban visions in the Global South.

PANEL 10: Establishing participatory processes in ecosystem-based agricultural management strategies.

PANEL 20B: Air quality and climate effects in low income countries: from observations to policy in a post-COP21 world.

PANEL 27A: Democracy and development revisited.

PANEL 29A: Food security and improved nutrition for the poor – a multidisciplinary research task.

PANEL 31: Global challenges for development research: lessons from North-South collaborations.

PANEL 33: Climate information for food security in developing countries.

PANEL 42: Disaster and health.

23 AUG. 14:00-15:30

PANEL 7B: Contested urban visions in the Global South.

PANEL 8: Land and resource tenure rights in the context of new global development agendas.

PANEL 9A: The sustainable development goals: from global to local governance.

PANEL 12A: The donor-recipient relationship: national ownership and extensive donor presence.

PANEL 26: Understanding behaviour and choice in context: accessing local knowledge to enhance energy access and sanitation interventions.

PANEL 27B: Democracy and development revisited.

PANEL 29B: Food security and improved nutrition for the poor – a multidisciplinary research task.

PANEL 35: Air quality and well-being in cities.

PANEL 39: One health.

23 AUG. 16:00-17:30

PANEL 9B: The sustainable development goals: from global to local governance.

PANEL 12B: The donor-recipient relationship: national ownership and extensive donor presence.

PANEL 13: Looking for opportunities and creating new urbanism in the developing countries: local dynamics and policy implications.

PANEL 16: Pneumonia in children below the age of five and their mothers.

PANEL 24: The rural household – an energy and food security nexus of global importance.

PANEL 25: Violence as a threat to mental health, economic growth and social stability, with intergenerational effects.

PANEL 29C: Food security and improved nutrition for the poor – a multidisciplinary research task.

PANEL 30: Peacebuilding amidst violence – localizing the security-development nexus.

PANEL 40: Sheltering and development.

24 AUG. 09:00-10:30

PANEL 3/15: Environmental migration and governance in Africa.

PANEL 17: Transformation of knowledge to enhance local capacity for sustainable water development.

PANEL 23: The politics of hybridity in everyday Africa: informalization and security and development.

PANEL 32: Aid in local contexts.

PANEL 34: Bridging the gap between water, sanitation and food production for improved food and nutrition security.

PANEL 41: Prediction and preparedness against emerging zoonotic infections.

PANEL 43: Improving school education outcomes: evidence, knowledge gaps, and policy implications.

PANEL 45: Transdisciplinary co-production: innovative methodologies for just urban transformations.

PANEL 46: Knowledge production, regional research organizations and the bridging of the local–global chasm in development cooperation.

NOTE: Panel and paper abstracts, list of participants and their institutional affiliations are available on the conference webpage.

Panels by number

PANEL 1: Starting from the local: avoiding, accommodating and/or overcoming global visions for science and development. Convener: Eren Zink, Uppsala University (UU).

Session A: 22 Aug., 16:00-17:30, De Geer lecture hall, house U

- International science partners and local scientific ambitions: A comparative study of scientists in Vietnam, Uganda and Ghana. Eren Zink, UU.
- How to be modern? The social negotiation of ‘good food’ in contemporary China. Joy Zhang, Univ. of Kent.
- Will Adapting Universal Solutions To Local Context Fill The Bottle? Insights from Female Genital Modification Patterns in Uganda. Chris C. Opien, Makerere Univ..
- Exploring grounded architectural practice to support transitions toward sustainable urbanism in Cape Town. Rudolf Perold, Cape Peninsula Univ. of Technology.

Session B: 23 Aug., 11:00-12:30, De Geer lecture hall, house U

- Brokers, smallholders’ weapons to bridge the gap between local reality and the national and the global: the impact of bureaucracy and the role of brokers in a community based forest management project in the Brazilian Amazon. Örjan Bartholdson, The Swedish Univ. of Agricultural Sciences (SLU).
- Transformation of Small-scale Fisheries – Critical Transdisciplinary Challenges and Possibilities. Gloria L. Gallardo Fernández, UU and Fred Saunders, Södertörn Univ..
- Illegal livelihoods in African borderlands. Eria Olowo Onyango, Makerere Univ..
- Harmonizing the governance of food security and biodiversity: a multi-level stakeholder network analysis in Ethiopia. Tolera Senbeto Jiren, Ine Dorresteyn, Julia Leventon, Arvid Bergsten and Joern Fischer, Leuphana Univ..

PANEL 2: Where are we now? The past and the future of Swedish development research collaboration. Conveners: David Nilsson and Sverker Sörlin, Royal Inst. Technology (KTH).

Time and Venue: 22 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Nordenskiöld lecture hall, house U

- Research Aid Revisited: Understanding Swedish research aid in the current state of world development through a historically grounded analysis. Sverker Sörlin and David Nilsson, KTH.
- Aiding science? Past and present discourses of Swedish research aid policy. Veronica Brodén Gyberg, Linköping Univ..
- International agricultural research - the past, present and future of Sweden’s engagement in the CGIAR. Johanna Lindahl, International Livestock Research Institute (ILRI), Kenya/SLU and Mats Lannerstad, ILRI, Kenya.
- The donor-recipient relationship: national ownership and extensive donor presence. Måns Felleesson, Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs/ Linköping Univ..

PANEL 3/15: Drivers and dynamics of migration. Conveners: Gunilla A. Olsson, Univ. Gothenburg (UG) and Ram B. Bhagat, Intern. Inst. for Population Sciences, Mumbai.

Time and Venue: 24 Aug., 09:00-10:30, Room U26

- Revisiting drivers for Environmental Migration in Africa. Gunilla A. Olsson, UG.
- The dynamics of internal migration – the case of Shashemene, Ethiopia, 1973-2008. Gunilla Bjerén, Stockholm Univ..
- Exploring the role of droughts in human migration in Ethiopia. A case study in South Wollo, northern Ethiopia. Lisa Garbe, Helmholtz Centre for Environmental Research (UFZ).
- Labour migration, rural-urban linkages and food security in India. Chetan Choithani, University of Sydney; Nabeela Ahmed and Priya Deshingkar, Univ. of Sussex.
- The effects of international migration on human development in the countries of origin: evidence from Cameroon. Kouogueng Yeyouomo, Min. Econ., Planning and Regional Development, Cameroon / Inst. for Demographic Training and Research (IFORD).

PANEL 5: Infrastructure and the political ordering of development. Conveners: Jan Bachmann, Univ. Gothenburg (UG); Jan A Scholte, UG and Peer Schouten, Danish Institute of International Studies (DIIS). Time and Venue: 22 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Högbom lecture hall, house U

- Political engineering: exploring the co-production of infrastructure, security and political order in Western statebuilding efforts in Africa. Jan Bachmann, UG and Peer Schouten, DIIS.
- Infrastructure for (Under)Development: The Global South in Global Internet Governance. Jan Aart Scholte, UG.
- State-Driven Large-Scale Irrigation Scheme and Smallholder Farmers in the Lake Tana Basin, Ethiopia. Atakilte Beyene, The Nordic Africa Institute.
- China's Export of Infrastructure-led Growth: Here Comes Noah's Arc? Yang Jiang, DIIS.

PANEL 6: Antibiotic resistance and measures to control its consequences – need for a multidisciplinary approach. Convener: Cecilia Stålsby Lundborg, Karolinska Institutet (KI).

Time and Venue: 22 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Room Y22

- Addressing Antimicrobial Resistance to attain the Sustainable Development Goals: What role should aid play? Maria-Teresa Bejarano, Sida / KI.
- Antibacterial Drug Resistance in Uganda, the way forward. Freddie Bwanga, Makerere University.
- Antibiotic Resistance in Nigeria: Causes and Possible Solutions. Chiamaka Lucymary Okechukwu, formerly Abia State Univ.
- Levels and trends of antibiotic resistance among clinical bacterial isolates in the district of Nashik, India in the period 2004-2014. Ingvild Odsbu, KI.

PANEL 7: Contested urban visions in the Global South. Conveners: Ilda Lindell, Stockholm University (SU); Onyanta Adama, SU and Andrew Byerley, University of Gothenburg (UG).

Session A: 23 Aug., 11:00-12:30, Högbom Lecture Hall, house U

- Colliding aspirations of a "colonial" town. Heidi Moksnes, SU.
- Contesting the formalization of urban livelihoods. Ana Maria Vargas Falla, Lund Univ./Univ. of Milan.
- Small enterprises in urban areas between formalization policies and social protection needs. A discussion on the Ethiopian case. Davide Chinigò, Stellenbosch Univ. and Cecilia Navarra, Univ. Torino.

Session B: 23 Aug., 14:00-15:30, Högbom Lecture Hall, house U

- Who can claim the city? 'Beirutis' as a form of urban identity politics. Leila Kabalan, American Univ. Beirut.
- Strategy of informal housing development in Setif, Algeria. Abderrahmane Diafat and Said Madani, Université F. A. Sétif 1, Algeria.

- Housing markets dynamics in metropolitan Cochabamba: An apparently not too big, not too fragile, bubble. Jorge M. Veizaga R., Univ. Mayor de San Simón, Bolivia.
- The co-constitution of inequality in a fragile global city. The case of Jakarta. Marie Thynell, UG.

PANEL 8: Land and resource tenure rights in the context of new global development agendas. Conveners: Robin Biddulph, Margareta Espling and Lasse Krantz, Univ. of Gothenburg (UG).

Time and Venue: 23 Aug., 14:00-15:30, Room U26

- Community rights to land and forest, influencing conditions for climate adaptation in the uplands of Thailand and Vietnam. Malin Beckman, Swedish Univ. of Agriculture Sciences (SLU).
- Implementing community-based tenure in practice: experiences from Mozambique. Lasse Krantz, UG.
- How has the Tanzanian state coped with the demands of the Village Land Act? A literature review. Robin Biddulph, UG.
- Climate change adaptation and mitigation through improved tenure security for small-scale agricultural producers. Jesper Karlsson, FAO and Matthew Fielding, SEI.

PANEL 9: The sustainable development goals: from global to local governance.

Conveners: Kristina Jönsson and Magdalena Bexell, Lund Univ. (LU).

Session A: 23 Aug., 14:00-15:30, De Geer lecture hall, house U

- Legitimation of the Sustainable Development Goals: a conceptual framework. Kristina Jönsson and Magdalena Bexell, LU.
- The United Nations Organization, SDGs, and National Development aspirations in Papua New Guinea. Graham Hassall, Victoria University of Wellington.
- National and local public private partnerships for development (PPPD). A way to achieve the SDGs? Virginia Rodríguez Nuño de la Rosa, University of Madrid.
- Toward a Conceptual Expansion of Ownership and Post-2015 Global Development Policy: Illustrations from the Jamaican Experience. Vaughn F. Graham, University of the West Indies.

Session B: 23 Aug., 16:00-17:30, De Geer lecture hall, house U

- Tackling the sanitation enigma: addressing barriers to change sanitation practices and hygiene behaviors in sub-Saharan Africa. Nelson Ekane, Royal Institute of Technology (KTH); Marianne Kjellén, Stockholm International Water Institute and Hans Westlund, KTH.
- Global efforts towards quality education for all: Evidence and reflections from an international and comparative educational perspective. Vinayagum Chinapah, Stockholm University.
- Exploring Universal Primary Education (UPE) Policy: The road-map towards inclusive and equitable quality education in Uganda. Stella B. Kyohairwe, Uganda Management Institute.
- Eco-social work for poverty alleviation in coastal areas of Mauritius: from research to practice. Komalsingh Rambaree, University of Gävle.

PANEL 10: Establishing participatory processes in ecosystem-based agricultural management strategies. Conveners: Stina Nyström, WWF Sweden and Steve W. Lyon, Stockholm Univ. (SU).

Time and Venue: 23 Aug., 11:00-12:30, Room U26

- Enabling participatory environmental management strategies with monitoring and assessment. Kevin Bishop, Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU).
- A participatory modelling approach to support integrated river basin management. Orn-uma Polpanich, Uppsala Univ. (UU) and Steve W. Lyon, UU/SU.
- Forest to the People: Does Co-management ensure improved forest health in Bangladesh forest ecosystems? Mohammad Belal Uddin, Shahjalal Univ. of Science and Technology.
- Community-based vulnerability assessment and measures to deal with the changing aquaculture ecosystem in the Philippines: a case of Magallanes, Sorsogon. Rocelyn C. De Vera, Univ. Philippines.

- Consequences and challenges of tourism and seaweed farming: a narrative on a coastal community in Zanzibar. Eva Tobisson, Ministry for Foreign Affairs, Sweden.

PANEL 11: From the failures of anti-politics to the promise of cash transfer: James Ferguson and the development encounter. Conveners: Bengt G. Karlsson and Staffan Löfving, Stockholm Univ. (SU). Time and Venue: 22 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Y23

- Unpacking the anti-politics of cash transfer: Latin American studies and the anthropology of James Ferguson. Staffan Löfving, SU.
- The function of Saami consultation processes in the governance of renewable energy development in Sweden. Annett Sasvari, Uppsala university.
- Seeing like a transnational state? Investigating Ferguson's critique of Scott's relevance in times of global capitalism. Linda Engström, Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU).
- From critiques of development interventions to the potentials of cash transfers – the similar trajectories of rural development debates and James Ferguson's work. Stefan Granlund and Flora Hajdu, SLU.

PANEL 12: The donor-recipient relationship: national ownership and extensive donor presence. Conveners: Malin Hasselskog and Isabell Schierenbeck, Univ. Gothenburg (UG).

Session A: 23 Aug., 14:00-15:30, Nordenskiöld lecture hall, house U

- Putting Paris into practice: Foreign aid, national ownership and donor alignment in Mali and Ghana. Stephen Brown, Univ. of Ottawa.
- Development of health financing policies in Cambodia: Where is national ownership situated in the relationships between Development Partners and national counterparts? Keovathanak Khim, Univ. of Health Sciences.
- Aiding Regionalism in Africa from Outside: The Perils of Donor Control. Fredrik Söderbaum, UG.
- East Asian donor countries: More ownership and less interference? Sabine Burghart, Univ. of Vienna.

Session B: 23 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Nordenskiöld lecture hall, house U

- Decision making in aid dependent countries and the challenge for democracy, the case of Tanzania. Jonas Ewald, Linnæus Univ..
- Development relations and the results agenda – examples from Swedish development cooperation with Mozambique. Therese Brolin, UG.
- Doing good or looking good? The paradoxical function of international development communication abroad and at home. Florencia Enghel, Stockholm Univ..

PANEL 13: Looking for opportunities and creating new urbanism in the developing countries: local dynamics and policy implications. Conveners: Patience Mususa, Cristina Rodrigues, Cristiano Lanzano, The Nordic Africa Institute. Time and Venue: 23 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Högbom lecture hall, house U

- Towards resolving competing and conflicting interests for land in the peri-urban areas of Ethiopia in the era of rapid urbanization. Achamyeleh Gashu Adam, Bahir Dar Univ.
- The challenges of urbanization in a constantly evolving context. The constraints of urban management in the context of Djibouti. Pascal Rey, ADESS Laboratory.
- Planned city extensions as a response to rapid urbanization in the Philippines. Carmeli Marie C. Chaves, Univ. of the Philippines.
- Rapid assessment tool for traditional Indian neighbourhoods: a case study of Alwar walled city in Rajasthan. Mani Dhingra, Indian Inst. of Technology.

PANEL 16: Pneumonia in children below the age of five and their mothers.

Convener: Rune Andersson, Univ. Gothenburg (UG). Time and Venue: 23 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Room Y11

- The burden of pathogenic microbes in Congolese children. Susann Skovbjerg, UG.
- Effectiveness of biogas in reducing household air pollution and child pneumonia in Nepal. Sharat C Verma, Univ. of California.
- Effects of household air pollution on airway symptoms in women cooks in Ethiopia. Mona Lärstad, UG.
- High antibiotic use and increasing rates of penicillin non-susceptible pneumococci in Tanzanian children after the vaccine introduction. Matilda Emgård, UG.

PANEL 17: Transformation of knowledge to enhance local capacity for sustainable water development.

Convener: Prosun Bhattacharya, Royal Institute of Technology (KTH).

Time and Venue: 24 Aug., 09:00-10:30, Room U29

- Are Bangladeshi urban slum landlords ready to pay for safe water? - Willingness-to-pay for an automated chlorination device at shared water points in Dhaka, Bangladesh. Sonia Sultana, Nazrin Akter, Leanne Unicomb, Md. Rofi Uddin, Syed Anjerul Islam, Intern. Centre for Diarrhoeal Disease Research (ICDDR); Yoshika Crider, Amy Pickering, Frederick Goddard, Stephen P. Luby and Jenna Davis, Stanford Univ.; Atonu Rabbani, Dhaka Univ..
- Drinking water manganese and fetal and child health and development. Syed Moshfiqur Rahman, Uppsala Univ. (UU)/ICDDR; Maria Kippler, Karolinska Institutet (KI); Fahmida Tofail, ICDDR; Jena Derakhshani Hamadani, ICDDR; Shams El Arifeen, ICDDR; Lars-Åke Persson, UU; Eva-Charlotte Ekström, UU and Marie Vahter, KI.
- Environmental regulations and compliance in the textile processing sector in Pakistan: empirical evidence. Waseem Gulzar, Sustainable Develop. Policy Inst./Pakistan Inst. of Develop. Economics.
- Understanding the extent of geogenic fluoride and arsenic in groundwaters of Tanzania-meeting the challenges for drinking water. Felix Mtalo, University of Dar es Salaam (UDS); Fanuel Ligete, Fina Lesafi, Regina Filemon and Julian Ijumulana UDS/KTH; and Prosun Bhattacharya, KTH.
- Groundwater contamination by arsenic and heavy metals in the Bolivian Altiplano - Outcomes of development research for enhancing local capacity for sustainable water development. Mauricio O. Muñoz and Israel Q. Lima, Univ. Mayor de San Andrés (UMSA)/KTH; Oswaldo Ramos and Jorge Quintanilla, UMSA; and Prosun Bhattacharya, KTH.
- Groundwater as resource for sustainable development- Understanding context for global development agenda and knowledge. Prosun Bhattacharya and Jochen Bundschuh, KTH/Univ. Southern Queensland.

PANEL 20: Air quality and climate effects in low income countries: from observations to policy in a post-COP21 world.

Conveners: Örjan Gustafsson and August Andersson, Stockholm University (SU).

Session A: 22 Aug., 16:00-17:30, Room Y11

- Air Pollution: Time For Phase-Out Has Finally Arrived. Veerabhadran Ramanathan, Univ. California.
- Air Pollution in Kenya: Knowledge Contribution by INST and Experienced Challenges. Michael J. Gatari Gichuru, Univ. of Nairobi.
